Janice Porter

RELATIONSHIP MARKETING SPECIALIST PODCAST
HOST & GUEST - LINKEDIN TRAINER

For Janice, it's all about Relationships!

She has an innate curiosity, which she has leveraged into building business relationships and teaches others how to do the same.

Her passion is working with people who want to build their businesses through relationship marketing and networking – and she does that using online and offline strategies.

LinkedIn training is a huge part of Janice's business. She believes all business professionals need to have a magnetic LinkedIn profile, and that LinkedIn is THE platform for attracting new clients, strategic partners and referrals.

Staying connected, and nurturing relationships comes next – and Janice shows clients how to implement a “tangible touch” follow-up system to do just that.

Janice really values the friendships and business relationships she makes and when she meets someone new is always thinking: “How may I support you?”

SPEAKING TOPICS:

- Relationship Marketing
- Maximize LinkedIn to Build Relationships, Business & Results
- Networking, Connecting & Following Up

“Janice was a fantastic guest on my podcast she was punctual, had value packed information relevant to my audience and was so good at sharing about the interview on social media after the show.

I have referred Janice on to be a guest on other shows as she was so easy to work with and my audience enjoyed her content!
